

Josephine Clark Brown

1850-1950 Lehi Centennial Biography

Josephine Clark Brown was Born December 11, 1855, at Grantsville, Utah, a daughter of John Wesley and Evaline Brown Clark. The family was called to settle Dixie in 1856 and it was there that Josephine grew to womanhood.

She married Byron Welman Brown March 10, 1875 and to them were born Evaline P. Merrill, 1876-1949; Marian Abram, 1878-1928; Fernando Clark, 1880-81; Ida M. Hacking 1882; Josephine Johnson, 1884; and Sarah Ellen Adams 1887. Josephine raise Eunice and Byron as if they were her own children.

Mrs. Brown held many offices in her ward. She taught the adult class in Sunday School; was a visiting relief Society teacher; made Temple clothes; and made burial clothes and prepared and dressed the dead before embalming was practiced in Lehi.

She died June 19, 1911, a devout Latter-day Saint.
